COVID-19 Column Be Introduced on CICPA Website

(Beijing, March 26, 2020) –Since the outbreak of COVID-19, CICPA, local institutes of CPAs and the accounting firms have promptly engaged in the prevention and control work nationwide, including general social services, professional support and donation and relief efforts. The Chinese accountancy profession has taken its own responsibilities to contribute to the battle against the epidemic by mobilizing all resources and blocking the spread of the virus.

To present the COVID-19 prevention and control efforts of the accountancy profession, on the homepage of its website, CICPA has introduced a special column “COVID-19 Prevention and Control: Actions Taken by Accountancy Profession” to publish relevant information and national policies and systems. Meanwhile, the CICPA Account on Wechat has also set up this special column to release relevant information.

To know more about the actions taken by the Chinese accountancy profession, please visit the COVID-19 Column by clicking:
